

Brigitte Young is Professor Emerita of International Political Economy, Department of Political Science at the University of Münster, Germany. She previously served as Expert Advisor to the Enquete-Commission of the German Parliament on 'Globalization of the World Economy.' She is currently a member of the Scientific Advisory Board of the EU-financed project on 'Financialisation, Economy, Society and Sustainable Development (FESSUD) and an Expert Advisor to the EU-Project on 'Orchestrating Information Technologies and Global Systems Science for Policy Design and Regulation' (SYMPHONY). Young has held several guest professorships at the Free University, Berlin; Science-Politique, Paris; Science-Politique Lille; France; Central European University, Budapest, Hungary; Warwick University UK; and Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., USA. Her most recent publications include 'The Hijacking of Ordoliberalism', as guest editor, European Review of International Relations ERIS (2015); Financial Cultures and Crisis Dynamics, co-edited with Bob Jessop and Christoph Scherrer (Routledge 2014); Financial Crisis: Causes Policy Responses, Future Challenges. Outcomes of EU-funded Research, European Commission, Brussels: DG Research and Innovation (2014); 'German Ordoliberalism as Agenda Setter for the Euro Crisis: Myth Trumps Reality,' Journal of Contemporary European Studies, Vol. 22:3: 276-87 (2014); Questioning Finance from a Feminist Perspective, co-edited with Isabella Bakker and Diane Elson (Routledge 2011), and Imaginaries of German Economic Success: Is the Current Model Sustainable?, Near Futures Online 1 'Europe at a Crossroads', (March 2016): <http://nearfutureonline.org/imaginaries-of-german-economic-success-is-the-current-model-sustainable/>