Announcement

Chemie der Erde / Geochemistry - farewell to the retired and welcome to the incoming of Editor-in-Chief

With the publication of this issue of Chemie der Erde / Geochemistry we celebrate the 100th anniversary of the journal, and we announce a change regarding the position of the Editor-in-Chief. Professor Klaus Heide's editorial leadership of Chemie der Erde / Geochemistry over the last 40 years has allowed the journal to evolve as an internationally recognized, premier publication of interdisciplinary chemical topics in Geosciences. He has provided excellent service to the journal, handling hundreds of papers. Now Professor Klaus Heide is stepping down as Editor-in-Chief. We would like to express our sincere gratitude to him and the members of the editorial board for all their efforts and dedicated work.

It is a pleasure to welcome Professor Alexander Deutsch as new Editor-in-Chief. He will continue to develop the journal according to the needs of its target audience. We are convinced that Professor Deutsch and the editorial board will further raise the profile and standing of Chemie der Erde / Geochemistry. We wish him and his team success for implementing new ideas while maintaining a rigorous peer review process which is at the heart of every successful journal.
