School of Economics and Management (SEM) has 9 institutes covering 3 disciplines, including Management Science and Engineering, Business Administration, and Applied Economics. SEM also has an MBA/EMBA Education Centre. SEM offers degree programs at bachelor's, master's and doctoral level.

SEM has 139 faculty members led by leading scholars and experts, including an academician, Chang Jiang Scholars, Recipient of National Science Fund for Distinguished Young Scholars, and Candidates of Young Top-Notch Talent Support Program (Ten Thousand Talents Plan).

SEM selectively enrolls the top 3% senior high school students. MBA and EMBA programs cultivate a great variety of leading business talents. Our Ph.D. programs provide rigorous training to doctoral students in multiple disciplines. Currently there are 4418 students enrolled.

SEM's Management Science and Engineering and Business Administration disciplines both received "A-" in the 4th round of discipline assessment in 2017, making SEM one of the top six business schools (with two A-level management disciplines) in China. In the 2018 professional degree ranking, our MBA program received an A level (the fifth in China). SEM is successively accredited by AACSB, CAMEA, and EQUIS.
