

INDIVIDUALISATION SYMPOSIUM 2025

Integrating Human and Animal Research

25
March 2025

ZiF – Centre for Interdisciplinary Research, Bielefeld

Ingela Alger

Toulouse School of Economics

»On the evolutionary foundations of intra-family resource sharing«

Camilla Cenni

University of Mannheim

»Stable individual differences in object play as a pathway to tool use emergence in a non-human primate species«

Michael H. Goldstein

Cornell University

»From birds to words: A comparative approach to the development of communication«

Apply for travel grants for early and mid-career researchers!

More information and registration:
<http://symposium.jice.info>

Maria Moiron

Bielefeld University

»Evaluating the existence and magnitude of indirect genetic effects using a meta-analytical approach«

Bastian Mönkediek

Bielefeld University

»What makes us so different?
Individualisation processes in the life course from a behavioural-genetic perspective«

Barbara Natterson-Horowitz

Harvard University & UCLA

»The moody animal: The ancient origins of ‘ups and downs’«