

CURRICULUM VITAE

Stephan Tölke, M.A., Born July 16, 1983 in Münster

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Research Associate, Institute for Arabic and Islamic Studies, Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität (WWU) Münster, 2015-present

- Team member in the project: “(B2-3) At the intersection of discourses. Ibn Nubāṭa al-Miṣrī (1287-1366) and the culture of ambiguity” funded by the Religion and Politics Cluster of Excellence of the WWU Münster
- Lecturer for undergraduate courses in Arabic and Islamic Studies
- Affiliated member of the ALEA-Project

Graduate Assistant, Institute for Arabic and Islamic Studies, WWU, 2013-2014

- Tutor for Classical and Modern Arabic

Student Assistant, Institute for Arabic and Islamic Studies, WWU, 2012-2013

- Tutor for Classical and Modern Arabic

EDUCATION

Doctoral studies, WWU Münster, 2015-present

- PhD candidate
- The PhD project's preliminary title: A secular approach towards politics in the Mamlūk period? Ibn Nubāṭa's Sulūk duwal al-mulūk and his conception of rulership.
- Member of the Graduate School of Religion and Politics Cluster of Excellence

Master's program, WWU Münster (one term at Leiden University 2013), 2012-2014

- Arabic and Islamic Studies with a deepening in Islamic law and history
- Master's thesis: The licencing of medical professions in Islamic societies in the pre-Ottoman period

Bachelor's program, WWU Münster, 2007-2012

- Twofold degree in History and Arabic-Islamic Culture
- Bachelor's thesis: The Muslim participation in the Norman conquest of Sicily