(full time)

Salary Level E 13 TV-L

preferably from December 15th, 2019

This fixed-term post is initially available until September 30th, 2021.

Currently, the regular full employment time is 39 hours and 50 minutes per week. The place of employment is Münster.

All posts can, as a rule, also be filled as part-time positions if there are no compelling work-related reasons against doing so.

There is no teaching load.

The scope of duties includes the autonomous participation in the transnotation and critical edition of Ottoman music manuscripts from the 19th century, with a focus on the instrumental and vocal repertoire handed down in Ottoman-written sources. Ability to work in a team, a reasonable level of activity in the management of the project, involvement in the organization of project-related events and public relation work are required.

The following requirements must be met:

- A superior PhD or in exceptional cases a highly qualified master's degree in musicology with a focus on ethnomusicology.
- Good knowledge of Near Eastern music theory, of Ottoman notation types of the 19th century (Hampartsum notation, Western notation).
- Advanced use of English in spoken and written form.
- Working knowledge of Ottoman script.

Desirable is:

- Skills in working with notation programs (Sibelius).
- Experience with the use of office programs.
- German language skills

Depending on the qualification of the applicants the position can alternatively be split and filled with two research associates working 50% of the regular working hours, salary level 13 TV-L (wissenschaftliche Mitarbeiterin/ wissenschaftlicher Mitarbeiter mit 50 % der regelmäßigen Arbeitszeit, Entgeltgruppe 13 TV-L). In the case of non-doctoral associates, the intention to write a doctoral thesis is desirable.

The advertised position begins with a training period in which the basic project-specific knowledge and skills are imparted.
