

Kolloquium zur Osteuropäischen Geschichte

Sommersemester 2025

Montags 18 – 20 Uhr

Raum 072 | Fürstenberghaus | Domplatz 20-22

Prof. Dr. Ricarda Vulpius

Abteilung für Osteuropäische Geschichte

14.04.25 Oleksandr Zaitsev (L'viv): Ukrainian Nationalists and German National Socialism, 1930-1939

28.04.25 Jan Arend (Tübingen): Stress und die Transformation in der Tschechoslowakei/ Tschechien, 1960-2000

05.05.25 Dirk Suckow (Halle): Somewhere under the Rainbow oder: Gebaute Geschichtspolitik. Das Denkmal der Völkerfreundschaft (1982) in Kyïv

12.05.25 Börries Kuzmany (Wien): Nicht-territoriale Autonomie als eine Form des Umgangs mit nationaler Vielfalt in Europa. Die geistes- und politikgeschichtliche Reise einer Idee, 1848-1939

19.05.25 Nataliia Kovalchuk (München): "Almost every century of Russian life has... had its Slavophiles." Neo-Slavophilism in post-Soviet Russia (1991-2001)

26.05.25 Angelina Kalashnikova (Kiel): Trafficking, Concubinage, and Marriage: Russian Colonizers and Local Women in 17th-Century Eastern Siberia

02.06.25 Anastasiia Ermolaeva (Mainz): The Marriage Policy of the Moscow Court in the Second Half of the 15th to the Early 17th Century

16.06.25 Anna Ivanova (Berlin): To Each According to His Need? The Development of Social Welfare and Debates on (In)Equality in the Soviet Union, 1950s–1970s

23.06.25 Bozhena Kozakevych (Frankfurt a. d. Oder): Sowjetische Religionspolitik im multiethnischen Berdytschiw (1921-1964)

30.06.25 Alina Ivanenko (Mannheim): Judicial System in Reichskommissariat "Ukraine" Under the German Occupation During WWII and the Fate of Their Employees After the Establishment of the Soviet Government

07.07.25 Kirill Ospovat (Madison): Russia's Haiti? The Pugachev Rebellion (1773-1775), Indigenous Republicanism, and the Radical Enlightenment

