

"Under Construction": Research Projects in the New Literatures in English

ASNEL is an association that believes in sharing ideas and promoting discussion at early stages of development, often long before a project is published.

To promote this kind of exchange, we invite abstracts for a section called "Under Construction". This is not the traditional graduate forum or "Nachwuchsseminar," but is aimed at every level of the hierarchy, ranging from young colleagues working on their diploma papers to veteran ASNEL members struggling with their new projects. Both are in need of discussion and feedback, and those presenting as well as those watching and listening usually profit from the exchange.

This is a chance to receive a great deal of varied feedback from conference delegates working in many fields within postcolonial studies. If you are interested in taking part, please submit a short abstract (up to 300 words) or direct any questions you might have to ursula.kluwick@ens.unibe.ch. The deadline is 31 March 2009.

If you prefer a visual presentation or are not yet ready to formulate your arguments, you might consider submitting an abstract for a poster presentation.
