

ExAPP 2019: 4th Conference on Experimental Approaches to Perception and Production of Language Variation

Thursday, 26th of September 2019

08:30-09:30	Registration (foyer)
09:30-10:00	Welcome and introduction by dean and organizers: Gunther de Vogelaer and team (Aula)
10:00-11:00	Plenary talk by Alice Foucart (Nebrija Madrid): The impact of language on our behaviour (Aula)
11:00-11:30	Coffee break (foyer)
	Section I: Netaya Lotze (Chair) - Senatssaal	Section II: Manuela Lanwermeyer (Chair) – Aula	Section III: Emma Moore (Chair) – S055 (basement)
11:30-12:00	Llamas, Watt, French, Braun & Robertson Assessing listener sensitivity to spatially highly localised accent features using the Geographical Association Test	Hanulikova Effects of talker identity on speech intelligibility: a lifespan perspective	Fuchs Sociolinguistic variation in intensifier usage in Indian and British English: the roles of gender, age and formality
12:00-12:30	Levon, Sharma, Ye, Cardoso & Watt Real-time evaluation of accent and professional competence	Beaman & Tomaschek Loss of historical phonetic contrast across the lifespan: articulatory, lexical and social effects on sound change in Swabian German	Eddington & Brown Who says what? The production and perception of English /t/ in the five states in the United States
12:30-13:00	Wenling The effect of language attitudes on short-term phonetic convergence	Hödl Perception of voice onset time by German and Austrian listeners	Brown, Arnold, Candea, Reid-Collins & German 'Gender: it's complex': including non-binary gender identities in experimental linguistic research
13:00-14:30	Lunch (foyer)
	Section I: Astrid Adler (Chair) - Senatssaal	Section II: Erez Levon (Chair) – Aula	Section III: Charlotte Gooskens (Chair) –S055
14:30-15:00	Viana dos Santos, Buson & Chevrot Judgment and cognitive organisation of the sociolinguistic variables in SLA	Voeten How does variation lead to change? The role of individual differences in adults' acquisition of sound change	Zenner, Rosseel & Speelman An acquisitional perspective on language perception: the social meaning of borrowing
15:00-15:30	de Boer & Heeren Individual variation in native and non-native filler pauses	Jeffries The roles of familiarity and similarity in children's developing accent awareness	Heisterkamp, Loerts & Schüppert The effect of instruction language on academic achievement in Dutch higher education
15:30-16:00	Jansen, Gnevsheva & Szakay Effect of topic on front vowel realization in L1 and L2 mono- and bidialectal speakers	Meluzzi The acquisition of sociophonetic variation: a production and perception experiment with Italian schoolchildren	Kleene Muslims as target of hate speech on 'social' media
16:00-16:30	Coffee break (foyer)
	Section I: Nicolai Phrao (Chair) - Senatssaal	Section II: Alice Foucart (Chair) –Aula	Section III: Nancy Niedzielski (Chair) –S055
16:30-17:00	Smorenburg & Heeren The distribution of speaker-specificity in fricative /x/ acoustics	Gerasimova & Lyutikova Investigating mismatch between production and perception of variation: An experimental study	Boswijk, Loerts, Coler & Hilton Pupil dilation reflects increased processing load for salient variables
17:00-17:30	Buson, Chevrot, Nardy, Dugua & Charles How do speakers categorize sociolinguistic varieties	Striedl Hebrew speakers' perception of sociolinguistic variation	Ansorge, Goller, Hong & Choi Whereof one cannot speak: how language and captual of visual attention interact

17:30-18:00	Pinget Accent recognition in the Netherlands	Ozek, Gooskens & Saglam The mutual intelligibility of a Kurdish and a Zarak dialect spoken in the province of Elazig, Turkey	Adler & Kleene Is Low German still alive? Reflections on how to measure the vitality of lesser used languages
18:00	Poster reception (Wine and Snacks) - foyer

Friday, 27th of September 2019

09:30-10:30	Plenary talk by Manuela Lanwermeier (Vienna) & Jürgen-Erich Schmidt (Marburg): The effect of regional variation on phonological and syntactic speech processing (Aula)
10:30-11:00	Coffee break (foyer)
	Section I: Philipp Striedl (Chair) - Senatssaal	Section II: Anja Schüppert (Chair) – Aula	Section III: Anne-France Pinget (Chair) –S055
11:00-11:30	Hilton & Loerts Stimmen: Sociolinguistic research with smartphones in minority language areas	Pharao Processing words in a different accent: the role of tonal contours in lexical access	Robinson Is there social evaluation of syntactic variation? Two perception studies of word order variation in Finnish
11:30-12:00	Fehér Hungarian kindergartners' attitudes towards their local dialect	Thir Investigating co-textual and contextual effects on phonological intelligibility in ELF communication: an experimental approach	Rossee, Szmrecsanyi & Grafmiller The particle placement alternation in World Englishes: an experimental validation of probabilistic corpus models
12:00-12:30	Prada Pérez & Feroce A variationist approach to subject pronoun expression (SPE) in Spanish second-language learners (L2ers)	Hoffman, Nagy, Mendes & Walker How do ethnolects mark ethnic identity? An experimental approach	Bosch & Felser The role or processing constraints on word order variation in German infinitival complementation
12:30-13:00	Turner Can "new" vowels lose their novelty? Explaining real-time L2 production through L2 categorical perception	Díaz Accent in Northern Irish fiction: A study of the perception of clusters of phonetic variables
13:00-14:30	Lunch (foyer)
	Section I: Laura Rossee (Chair) - Senatssaal	Section II: Nicolai Pharao (Chair) – Aula	Section III: Anja Schüppert (Chair) – S055
14:30-15:00	Uneken, Loerts & Hilton Does exposure to rap music affect implicit language attitudes?	Aurrekoetxea, Unamuno & Ensunza The influence of algorithms on dialect classification results	Ferrer Portillo A perceptual study of Bristol English
15:00-15:30	Von Elbwart The perceptual dialectology of South Florida	Ureel, Diels, Robert & Schrijver Investigating the effects of instruction on the acquisition of L2 sociolinguistic competence	Patay, Racz, Rebrus & Törkenczy Lexical effects outrank phonological biases in Hungarian morphophonological variation
15:30-16:00	Coffee break (foyer)
16:00-17:00	Plenary talk by Emma Moore (Sheffield): The role of social meaning in language change: Using perception research to explain patterns in production data (Aula)
19:00	Conference Dinner (A2 am See Restaurant)

Saturday, 28th of September 2019

	Section I: Netaya Lotze (Chair) – Aula	Section II: Dietha Koster (Chair) – S055
09:30-10:00	White Auditory semantic priming: how can we use it to study linguistic variation?	Heeren Re-assessing the role of vowel formant dynamics in speaker-dependent information
10:00-10:30	Vriesendorp Does 'American' prime 'CANDY'? Exploring the use of semantic priming experiments to access below-awareness accent recognition	Adler & Plewnia How to measure acceptance? On cases of doubt in German
10:30-11:00	Coffee break (foyer)
11:00-12:00	Plenary talk by Martijn Wieling (Groningen): Investigating pronunciation from an aggregate perspective: from dialectometry to articulography (Aula)
12:00	Final discussion & goodbye (Aula)

Posters (26th of September, 18:00) - foyer

1. Gewering. Language attitudes in adolescence. A cross border study into the perception of standard language and dialect among secondary education pupils.
2. Azalim & Marcilese. Children's perception and production of variable agreement in Brazilian Portuguese: naturalistic and experimental approaches.
3. Chen & Wang - A study on the perception of consonants in Mandarin VCV utterances.
4. Choi, Goller, Shin, Yun, Kroiss & Ansorge. Linguistic and nonlinguistic processing of Figure and Ground in motion events: evidence from German and Korean.
5. Dziura. Morphosyntactic variation in the L2 English of LGBTQ+ Polish migrants.
6. Lotze & Konstantinova. Dialogue with artificial intelligence: methods in human-computer interaction research.
7. Maxwell & Fuchs. Cross-dialectal perception of lexical stress: evidence from Indian English.

8. Porkert, Loerts & Koster. Reversed conceptual transfer of gender concepts in German-Dutch bilinguals.
9. Richter. Transcription-independent measurement of pronunciation difference.
10. Ememobong & Usoro. The impact of cross-cultural contact on behavioural and linguistic taboos in Igbo and Anaan boundary localities.
11. Levy, Konieczny & Hanulikova. Long-term effects of accent exposure on production and word learning.
