

SS 2017

10.05.	Deutsch to go for international PhDs	Need "survival" German asap? This day serves your purpose. Get ready to have fun learning German and putting your German speaking skills to use. We offer you a lively, personalized training that involves plenty of practice based on real-life situations. As the content will be designed according to your specific language needs, it is essential that your 2 wants reach us by April 24 at int.phd@uni-muenster.de (e.g. "I want to be able to buy groceries at a fresh market"). Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001            Time: 10 am - 4 pm            Organiser: Graduate Centre, Iva Ognjanovic (IP@WWU)            Participants max.: 10            Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
11.05.	Support institutions for PhDs at WWU Münster: infoevent	What does a PhD at WWU look like? Who can advise me on PhD stipends or job search? What other support institutions for PhDs are there at WWU? This English-speaking event should provide you an insight into your future PhD at WWU, including job opportunities, stipends, and advisory services. Meeting point: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001            Time: 10 am - 1 pm            Organiser: Graduate Centre, Ina Behmer (IP@WWU)            Participants max.: 12            Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
12.05.	Intercultural training: doing a PhD in Münster	Interested in the peculiarities of German academic culture and structures, communication styles, and behavior? Brush up your German academic intercultural communication skills with our communication coach to avoid intercultural unpleasanties during your PhD at WWU. Our coach Annie Bordeleau uses fun and interactive participant-centred methods to help you improve your proficiency in German research culture, adaptation and networking. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001            Time: 9 am - 1 pm            Organiser: Graduate Centre, Annie Bordeleau (IP@WWU)            Participants max.: 12            Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
15.05.	Finding funding for my future PhD	PhD projects at our university do not necessarily include funding by the respective departments (some Graduate Schools might be exceptions, though). There are, however, other different possibilities to finance your doctoral study. So where can you find information about external funding bodies (e.g., foundations, charities, and trusts) which support doctoral degree pursuits? Linda will guide you through national and international search engines and databases that contain scholarships, grants and other funding opportunities for your PhD. An hour is reserved for preparing an application for a suitable scholarship: you will brainstorm the requirements and content of your application in small groups moderated by Linda and Iva. Please inform yourselves about stipends and other financing options provided by your home countries before the workshop. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001            Time: 10 - 12 am

Organiser: Graduate Centre, Linda Dieks, Iva Ognjanovic (IP@WWU) Participants max.: 10 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
16.05.	Living in Münster: a crash course for internationals	Did you know that Münster is one of the most livable cities in the world? Are you curious to find out about hidden places and the locals' way of living? Join us to discover more about your new city, take advantage to ask questions about whatever seems alien to you, and meet fellow new 'Münsteraner'. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001            Time: 2 - 4 pm            Organiser: Graduate Centre Dr. Jan Schmidt, Katarzyna Krukar (STIBET)            Participants max.: 12            Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
17.05.	GradCafé	Are you interested in presenting your work to other fellow PhD students and getting useful comments from them in a relaxed atmosphere in one of the town's bars? The GradCafé allows you the opportunity to hold a short presentation of your paper, topic or research, and greatly benefit from others' suggestions. Schedule: 10' presentation, rest reserved for discussion &amp; socializing. Meeting point: Graduate Centre            Time: 5 - 8 pm            Organiser: Graduate Centre, Ina Behmer (IP@WWU)            Participants max.: 10            Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
18.05.	The adventurous life of the PhD: planning your time-efficient journey through your PhD	The aim of this workshop is to introduce participants to various time management techniques and long-term project planning methods. We will guide you through all stages of your "research expedition" which will give you an overview of tasks and milestones on your way to achieve your goals. This workshop is recommended for the 1st year PhD students. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001            Time: 10 am - 1 pm            Organiser: Graduate Centre, Katarzyna Krukar (STIBET)            Participants max.: 12            Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
WS 2016/2017
13.09.	IP@WWU Forschungsaufenthalt: Brave New Me	Venue: TBA            Time: 16:00 - 16:50 und 17:00 - 17:50            Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU-Alumni)

WWU
MÜNSTER

DAAD

GEFÖRDERT VOM

Bundesministerium
für Bildung
und Forschung

18.10.	Living in Münster: A Crash Course for Internationals	Did you know that Münster is one of the most livable cities in the world? Are you curious to find out about hidden places and the locals' way of living? Join us to discover more about your new city, take advantage to ask questions about whatever seems alien to you, and meet new fellow 'Münsteraner'. Venue: Graduate Centre, Room 001 Time: 3 – 5 pm Organiser: Graduate Centre (STIBET &amp; IP@WWU) Hosts: Katarzyna Krukar Registration: graduate.centre@uni-muenster.de
21.10.	Intercultural Training: Doing a PhD in Münster	Interested in the peculiarities of German academic culture and structures, communication styles, and behavior? Brush up your German academic intercultural communication skills with our communication coach to avoid intercultural unpleasanties during your PhD at WWU. The coach uses fun and interactive participant-centred methods to help you improve your proficiency in German research culture, adaptation and networking. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001 Time: 9 am - 1 pm Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Participants max.: 12 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
24.10.	Finding Funding for My Future PhD	PhD projects at our university do not necessarily include funding by the respective departments (some Graduate Schools might be exceptions, though). There are, however, other different possibilities to finance your doctoral study. So where can you find information about external funding bodies (e.g., foundations, charities, and trusts) which support doctoral degree pursuits? Our scholarship advisor Linda Dieks will guide you through national and international search engines and databases that contain scholarships, grants and other funding opportunities for your PhD. Linda would appreciate if you could inform yourselves about stipends and other financing options provided by your home countries in advance, as she will then be better able to help you find a suitable funding. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001 Time: 3 - 5 pm Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Participants max.: 15 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
26.10.	Support Institutions for PhDs at WWU Münster: Info-Event	What does a PhD at WWU look like? Who can advise me on PhD stipends or job search? What other support institutions for PhDs are there at WWU? This English-speaking event should provide you an insight into your future PhD at WWU, including advisory services. Meeting point: Graduate Centre Time: 10 - 12 am Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Host: Ina Behmer Participants max.: 12 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de

SS 2016

11.04.	Forschungsstipendium IP@WWU Infoworkshop	Fragen zum Forschungsstipendium? Kommen Sie einfach vorbei! Ort: Graduate Centre, Schlossplatz 6, Seminarraum 1 Zeit: 15:00 - 17:00 Veranstalter: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Referent(in): Linda Dieks &amp; Iva Ognjanovic Sprache(n): Deutsch, Englisch
24.05.	Living in Münster: A Crash Course for Internationals	Did you know that Münster is one of the most livable cities in the world? Are you curious to find out about hidden places and the locals' way of living? Join us to discover more about your new city, take advantage to ask questions about whatever seems alien to you, and meet new fellow 'Münsteraner'. Venue: Graduate Centre, Room 001 Time: 4 – 6 pm Organiser: Graduate Centre (STIBET &amp; IP@WWU) Hosts: Rana Siblini &amp; Sabine Schneider Registration: graduate.centre@uni-muenster.de
25.05.	Support Institutions for PhDs at WWU Münster: Info-Event	What does a PhD at WWU look like? Who can advise me on PhD stipends or job search? What other support institutions for PhDs are there at WWU? This English-speaking event should provide you an insight into your future PhD at WWU, including job opportunities, stipends, and advisory services. Meeting point: Graduate Centre Time: 10 - 12 am Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Host: Attila Karakus Participants max.: 12 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
27.05.	Intercultural Training: Doing a PhD in Münster	Interested in the peculiarities of German academic culture and structures, communication styles, and behavior? Brush up your German academic intercultural communication skills with our communication coach to avoid intercultural unpleasanties during your PhD at WWU. The coach uses fun and interactive participant-centred methods to help you improve your proficiency in German research culture, adaptation and networking. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001 Time: 9 am - 1 pm Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Participants max.: 12 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
31.05.	Achieving win-win: English for Meetings and Successful Negotiations	The workshop aims at not only providing interested participants with a "toolbox" for managing international meetings in English, but also to show principle approaches for conducting intercultural negotiation situations, successfully. The workshop is engaging and interactive, with plenty of examples to work with – fun guaranteed! Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001 Time: 2 - 5 pm Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU) Participants max.: 12 Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de

02.06. Planning your time-efficient journey through PhD	The aim of this workshop is to introduce participants to various time management techniques and long-term project planning methods. We will guide you through all stages of your "research expedition" which will give you an overview of tasks and milestones on your way to achieve your goals. This workshop is recommended for the 1st year PhD students. Venue: Graduate Centre, Seminar Room 001          Time: 9.30 - 11.30 am          Organiser: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU)          Instructor: Katarzyna Krukar          Participants max.: 12          Registration: int.phd@uni-muenster.de
06.06. Neu im Graduate Centre: Support, Seminare, Stipendien	In diesem Kurzworkshop möchten wir interessierten Promovierenden einen Überblick über verschiedene aktuelle Unterstützungsangebote durch das Graduate Centre und unsere WWU-internen Kooperationspartner geben. Ort: Graduate Centre, Raum 001          Zeit: 15:00 - 17:00          Veranstalter: Graduate Centre (IP@WWU)          Referent(in): Linda Dieks &amp; Iva Ognjanovic          Sprache(n): Deutsch, Englisch Anmeldung: int.phd@uni-muenster.de