

Arts & Humanities
Research Council

Final Workshop „New Thinking on Alienation“

Organized by Prof. Michael Quante and Tim Henning in the framework of the AHRC-funded research networking project
“New Thinking on Alienation”

Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster, June 9, 2011
Schlossplatz 5, Festsaal

Thursday, June 09, 2011

10:00 – 11:15	Logi Gunnarsson (Potsdam): “In Defence of Ambivalence and Alienation”
11:30 – 12.45	Thomas Schramme (Hamburg): “Integration by Narration”
lunch break	---
14.00 – 15.15	Steven Vogel (Denison): “On Alienation from the Built Environment”
coffee break	---
15.45 – 17.00	Simon Hailwood (Liverpool): “Nature, Estrangement and ‘the Flesh’”
17:15 – 18:00	Concluding Discussion, Organizational Matters
dinner	---

About this workshop:

Our workshop is part of the AHRC-funded research networking project “New Thinking on Alienation” which is led by Dr. Simon Hailwood (principal investigator), Dr. Gillian Howie (both University of Liverpool), Prof. Dr. Logi Gunnarsson (TU Universität Dortmund) and Prof. Dr. Michael Quante (WW-Universität Münster). It is the final workshop, following a series of three workshops in 2010: Alienation and the Environment (Liverpool), Psychological and Self-Alienation (Dortmund), Social and Political Alienation (Münster).