

Topic: in-situ TEM

My research interest has focused on microstructural characterization and mechanical properties studies in metals and alloys comprising the crystalline and amorphous state. Transmission electron microscopy is the method of choice.