What is Language Learning in Tandem?

“Learning a foreign language in Tandem means that two people with different native languages meet on a regular basis. While supporting each other, the aim can be to improve and refresh one's own foreign language competences and skills and/or to learn more about the target language's culture, the partner's cultural background etc.”

Main principles of tandem learning

Autonomy

- each partner is responsible for their own learning
- he/she decides what, when and how
- he/she wants to learn and how the partner should help him/her (e.g. through corrections)

Reciprocity

- Both partners should benefit equally from the tandem partnership
- half of the time is spent learning in one of the two languages
- both partners support each other in their learning

(cf. Brammerts 2001)

Speakdating

Speakdating allows all our students to talk to each other in different languages outside a classroom. The concept of Speakdating is very simple. You talk to different people (possibly in different languages) within two hours.

The event will take place once a month in a café/pub in the city centre. You can find an overview of dates and times on Moodle.

SPEAK DATING

Nightline Münster e.V.

We are the Nightline Münster, a telephone service from students for students. We offer students seeking help the opportunity to speak to students working on a voluntary basis from 9pm to 1am on Sundays to Fridays. Students can share worries of all kinds with us anonymously and confidentially; we listen actively, do not judge and provide emotional relief. We offer a low-threshold service and refer specific questions to specialised staff. We can be an important point of contact for students, especially if they have not yet built a social network or do not want to talk about personal problems with anyone they know. You can find all further information at: <https://nightline-muenster.de/>
