

Colloquium in honour of Rosemarie Rheinwald

University of Münster, May 9-10, 2014

Friday, May 9, Senatssaal, Schlossplatz 2

15.00 - 15.15      Opening

Scientific Reasoning

15.15 - 16.15      Brigitte Falkenburg: Formal and Informal Reasoning -
Rosemarie Rheinwald's Analytical Approach to the Exact Sciences

16.15 - 16.30      Coffee Break

Paradox

16.30 – 17.30      Martin Pleitz: Reification and paradox

17.30 - 18.30      Ulrike Kleemeier: Paradoxes: thinking at the edge of nonsense

Saturday, May 10, Festsaal, Schlossplatz 5

Reference

9.30 – 10.30      Niko Strobach: The stork and the unicorn - thisness and singular terms for natural kinds

10.30 – 11.00      Coffee Break

11.00 – 12.00      Jan Michel: How not to Kripke Rheinwald's Russell

12.00 - 13.30 Lunch

Causality

13.30 - 14.30      Nancy Cartwright: Singular causation

14.30 - 15.30      Wolfgang Spohn: Conjunctive and interactive forks revisited

15.30 - 16.00      Coffee Break

16.00 - 17.00      Sebastian Schmoranzer: Is causation a local affair?

17.00 - 18.00      Andreas Hüttemann: Dispositions

The Colloquium:

Rosemarie Rheinwald died, all too early, five years ago at the age of 60. She was a professor at the philosophy department of the University of Münster and worked mainly in the fields of philosophy of science, philosophy of language, and logics. Her publications were not large in number, but deep in thought. Her very original and excellent work does not yet seem to have the repercussions it deserves. The convenors wish to help changing this a little bit and honour Rosemarie Rheinwald by discussing some of the main topics she worked on, and relating their own philosophical work to her thoughts and results.

Registration

Please send an email to Claudia.guestrau@uni-muenster.de at your earliest convenience, preferably before April 30.

Convenors: Nancy Cartwright, Brigitte Falkenburg, Ulrich Krohs and Wolfgang Spohn

Supported by:

Department of Philosophy, University of Münster

Center for Philosophy of Science, University Münster

DFG Research Group Causation | Laws | Dispositions | Explanation

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact the local organizer:

ulrich.krohs@uni-muenster.de.